Harding Class Holds Reunion

Miss America of '35 Among 90 Attending

The 1933 class of Harding High School held a reunion at Hotel Harding Saturday night. Ninety members of the class and their families were present for the affair which started at 7:30.

John Guthrie, who was toastmaster at the dinner, was in charge of the reunion. Rayl Conyers gave the invocation. This was followed by an introduction of the teachers and a response by Miss Pansy Rauhauser, the teacher to whom the Quiver was dedicated in 1933.

Each member of the class was introduced. Robert Haldeman gave the class history and Robert Kraner presented the memorial. The class and school songs were sung under the direction of George Wingett.

Awards were presented by George Howser. The Rev. Roy Converse, husband of the former Mary L. Winters, a class member, gave the benediction.

Music was supplied by Roy Laudenslager who played the marimba until the dinner began, and by Miss Sally Schneider, who played the piano during the meal.

Mrs. Marilyn Hume, the former Marilyn Meseke, won the award for the longest distance travelled to reach the reunion. She came from Houston, Tex. She was Miss America in 1935.

Guthrie said the reunion was so popular that another one is being planned for 1958.

MRS. HARRY H. OSBUN

Miss Evelyn Sager Becomes Bride Of Harry H. Osbun

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Osbun, whose wedding took place June 14 at the Central Christian Church are making their home at 495 Woodward Ave., Mansfield.

The bride, before her marriage, was Miss Evelyn May Sager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. Sager of 205 Orchard St. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Edith M. Osbun of Mansfield, and the late Ray S. Osbun.

A white latticework archway covered with greenery and white roses was the setting for the ceremony performed in the garden. On either side of the archway was a basket of white gladioli and carnations.

The pastor, the Rev. Ashley Booth, officiated for the ceremony read at 3:30 o'clock. Music was by Mrs. Madge Curl, organist and James Moser of Hiram, vocalist. The closing prayer was by the Rev. Eldred Johnston, a former pastor of the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a nylon marquisette gown over white taffeta with lace trim. The yoke of the bodice was outlined with lace and tiers of lace ruffling trimmed the skirt which extended into a chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil was held with a pearl tiara and her bouquet of stephanotis was centered with a white orchid. She wore the bride's pearls of Phi Kappa Chi Sorority.

A strapless gown of orchid net with a matching stole was worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. John C. Keggan of Columbus, and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow daisies. Mrs. Emerson Bissinger of Mansfield, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Sue Swink, bridesmaids, wore matching yellow gowns and carried bouquets of orchid daisies. Linda McCoy of Grand Blanc, Mich., in a replica of the bride's gown, was the flower girl. She carried a white basket filled with rose petals. Ringbearer was Alan Anderson of Lorain.

Bernard Weaver of Athens, served as best man for the bridegroom and ushers were James Cole of Belpre, O., James Ogden of Mansfield, William Sager and Larry Sager of Marion and Ray Stretch of Columbus.

The reception was on the porch where white trellises, summer flowers and greenery formed a background. Tapers in silver triple-branch candelabra were on either side of the four-tiered wedding cake. Hostesses were Mrs. Wayne Osborne, Mrs. Daniel D. Houpt and Mrs. James L. Andrews.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the bride was wearing a white, chartreuse and gray print dress with white accessories and her wedding orchid.

The bride was graduated from the Iberia High School in 1948 and received her B. A. Degree in home economics at Hiram College where she was a member of Phi Kappa Chi Sorority. She has been employed as a home economics teacher at Madison High School, Mansfield. The bridegroom, a graduate of Mansfield Senior High School in 1949, received his B. S. Degree in physical education from Ohio University last spring. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta and the Blue Key. He is a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force.

Guests were from Ft. Wayne, Ind., New York, Massachusetts, Michigan, Cleveland, Columbus, Springfield, Lorain and Sidney.

At the rehearsal party at the Sager home, June 13, Miss Sager presented her attendants with gifts of pearls and Mr. Osbun's gifts to the best man and ushers were monogrammed tie clasps and cuff links.

Milwaukee, Yankees Hit Road in Effort To Break Slump

New York In Boston For 3-Game Stand

Yanks Continue Losing Ways, Bow To Brooklyn, 9-0

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

The slump - ridden Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees packed up their troubles in their old kit bags and hit the road today hunting for something to smile about.

The two clubs, deep in their longest losing streaks of the year, misplaced their winning touch in their own ballyards and they were hoping a change of scenery would make a radical difference. The Yankees went to Boston for three games starting tonight. The Braves headed for Cincinnati, where they open a three-game stand with a twilight-night twin bill tonight.

Both teams have dropped seven straight. But because of the tight National League pennant race the sudden backslide has proved considerably more costly to the immediate standing of the Braves than to the Yankees.

Milwaukee skidded from first place, which it held by 2½ games over Brooklyn, to second—a full game behind the Dodgers.

The Yankees, of course, are still in first place—by six games. That's a bigger margin than they've held at the end of the last four seasons when they won pennants, but it represents a loss of 5½ games of their lead over the second-place Cleveland Indians.

The Yankees are so much off form that they can't win on the exhibition circuit either. Before New York's largest crowd of the season, 56,136, the world champions were overpowered by Brooklyn, 9-0, last night.

In the only regular game played in either league, the lowly Chicago Cubs stopped the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-2, on the six-hit pitching of lefty Paul Minner.

The third-place Cardinals had figured to gain half a game on the idle Braves and Dodgers but Minner kept them well under control and didn't yield a run until Ray Jablonski homered with the bases empty in the eighth.

The loss put the Cards 2½ games back of Brooklyn and 1½ behind Milwaukee.

Eddie Miksis and Frank Baumholtz contributed home runs to the 10-hit Chicago attack against loser Joe Presko, Mike Clark and Ed Erautt.

Minner handcuffed Stan Musial, stopping The Man's hitting streak at 10 games.

Richards Sure Chisox Can Win Pennant

Successful Road Trip Boosts Hopes Of Players and Fans

CHICAGO (AP)—The revived Chicago White Sox, victorious in 11 of 13 road games, returned home today and Manager Paul Richards talked hopefully of the American League pennant.

Hope was all but dead in the Sox camp when the Comiskey crew left town June 12.

The Sox had been losing monotonously and were 13 games behind the New York Yankees—the team that then was winning 18 straight and threatening to make a joke of the pennant race.

But something happened abroad. The once - dispirited Southsiders broke out on a rampage in the East and ended their road trip with seven straight wins, including sweeps of three-game series at New York and Boston. The victory string, coupled with a Yankee slump, has put the Sox only 6½ games out of the lead. They trail second-place Cleveland, also on the upswing, by half a game.

En route to Chicago for a Comiskey Park game tonight with the St. Louis Browns, Richards cast off his usual reticence when asked if the Sox could win the pennant, and said:

"Why not?"

"The race isn't half over yet and we're only 6½ games behind," he elaborated.

"On the first trip East in the latter half of May I went on record that the Yankees could be beaten if their big three pitchers—Allie Reynolds, Vic Raschi and Ed Lopat—began to fade or if something happened to either Phil Rizzuto or Yogi Berra.

"Well, it begins to appear that father time is coming to our aid. Rizzuto is hampered by an injury and the big three have begun to sputter.

"I don't care how many other pitchers Casey Stengel has. He won't win the pennant with pitchers like Jim McDonald, Bob Kuzava, Tom Gorman, Ray Scarborough and Ewell Blackwell.

"Reynolds, Raschi and Lopat have to do it. If they falter, Casey's in trouble.

"Besides, the Yankees used up a lot of good breaks and good baseball in their 18-game winning streak. The percentage seems to be catching up with them."

The 1953 Mozart Festival will be held in Wuerzberg, Germany, July 11-25.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

For the first time since Kid Gavilan rocked Chuck Davey to sleep, we've won ourselves a bet.

Last Friday, after the Cleveland Indians had whipped the Yankees behind Bob Lemon we began crowing a little and were backed into taking a sucker bet. Not being able to back down we wagered the Tribe would sweep the remaining two games. Actually our hopes weren't too high but thanks to some timely pitching by Mike Garcia and Early Wynn and the hitting of Larry Doby and Al Rosen we came in.

SHORT

The series sweep which moved the Tribe to within six games of the league-leading Yankees has crowded the Indian band wagon again. This week the wigwam doesn't contain nearly as many bums as it did a week ago.

Say what you will but the minute the big boy, Luke Easter, returned to action the Indians went on the rampage. He's been getting his share of base hits and his presence seems to have been the spark needed for Larry Doby's bat. Doby, more than any other member of the team, has sparked the resurging Indians. He has climbed into a neck and neck race with Rosen in the home run derby and the all-important runs batted in race.

While the Yankee lead has been cut the Tribe is still a long way out and those pesky White Sox could cause a lot of trouble when the two teams meet in a four-game set next week.

BIG TIME. Tom Umphlett, former Marion Red Sox outfielder, is the subject of a lengthy article in the Sporting News, due to hit the streets Wednesday. Written by Hy Hurwitz, Boston sports writer, Umphlett is tabbed as the man who is making Boston fans forget Dom DiMaggio.

In the article, Tom Oliver, coach with the Philadelphia A's rates Tom as the second best centerfielder in the American League. As a fielder, Oliver says, the former Marsox star is topped only by Jim Busby of the Senators. Experience will put Umphlett in the top spot above Mickey Mantle and Larry Doby, Oliver believes.

TED WILLIAMS PACKS. Marine Capt. Ted Williams, former Boston Red Sox outfielder, packs his flying clothes into a footlocker at the First Marine Air Wing base somewhere in Korea. He is scheduled to return to the United States for treatment of an ear ailment which grounded him after 39 missions in Panther-jet fighter bombers over North Korea.

Bucyrus Driver Bruised in Mass Spill in Michigan

NORTHVILLE, Mich. (AP) — Five harness racing drivers were injured or shaken up and their horses were eliminated in a mass spill at Northville Downs Monday night.

My Jerry, a five-year-old mare, broke gait and fell while pacing second in the eight-horse field. Owner-driver Everett Hammell of Pinckney, Mich., was tossed into the path of the onrushing six horses, but escaped with bruises and lacerations.

Art Lutz of Ceresco, Mich., piloting the colt Raymond Pile, suffered two broken ribs. The other three drivers—Jack Williams of Comstock Park, Mich., Jim Carriveau of Northville and Don Hall of Bucyrus, O.—escaped with slight bruises.

None of the horses was injured.

Our Pastime, leading the field at the time, went on to win and paid $19.80.

PGA Tourney Action Opens Wednesday

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—Golf's longest and toughest grind, the PGA championship, begins its week-long run Wednesday with two tournament pros sharing the favorite's role—Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff.

Jim Turnesa, the mild-mannered defending champion from Briarcliff, N. Y., himself is picking Snead, a three-time winner, as the man most likely to survive the 216-hole medal and match play marathon.

Middlecoff, winner of the Carlings Open at Cleveland over the weekend, comes to Birmingham with his clubs "hot," as the boys say, and with a big collection of backers.

Cincy, Braves In Doublebill

Southpaws Named To Preserve Win Streak

CINCINNATI (AP) — A five-game winning streak isn't unusual in the major leagues, but the Cincinnati Redlegs add their own little touch: They've got a lefthanded five-game streak going.

That's okay with Redleg Skipper Rogers Hornsby. In fact, Hornsby (not that he's superstitious) just happens to have named two lefties to pitch against Milwaukee in a twilight-night doubleheader tonight.

Both portsiders—Jackie Collum (2-2) and Harry Perkowski (3-6) earned victories as the Redlegs were taking five straight from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"Half" Collum is to face another lefty, Don Liddle (3-1) in the opener, while the lanky Perkowski has tough Max Surkont as his opponent. Surkont, a strong-armed righthander, has an impressive 9-2 record, including two triumphs over Cincinnati.

Golfers Tune Up For Ohio Publinx

CLEVELAND (AP) — Golfers tune up in best-ball matches today for the 20th Ohio Public Links championship starting Wednesday over the 72-par, 6,900-yard Lost Nation course near Willoughby.

Play over the wooded, well-trapped layout will be 72 holes medal, with 18 holes Wednesday, 18 more Thursday and the final 36 on Friday for the low 50 out of the starting field of 152.

TO CLOSE NOMINATIONS

Nominations for the 1955 edition of the Little Brown Jug pacing classic at Delaware close Wednesday, the Associated Press reported today. Foals of 1952 are eligible for the event. The race will be worth around $70,000.

Three Runs Break Scoreless Deadlock

Osgood Wins in Ninth; Vance Beats Hintons

Osgood shutout Wilhelm Wallpaper, 3-0, after an eight-inning scoreless deadlock and Vance edged Hintons, 5-4 in two National League contests of Little League baseball last night.

Osgood managed to get two hits in the first inning but couldn't get a man across the plate. Both teams got four hits in the eight-inning struggle and in the fifth inning both made an error.

Finally in the ninth Steve Flesher broke the monotony with a double. The next three men got on by errors, advanced when Mullen was hit by a pitch and came home on a single by Foos. Flesher was the winning pitcher for Osgood.

Vance Sporting Goods scored first in the second when Foreman hit sending Griffith home after he had reached first on a fielder's choice. White scored for Hinton's in the third after getting on by a walk. He was hit around by Maag and Giles.

With the score tied Vance got two more by taking advantage of two errors by infielders. They scored again in the fourth and sixth while Hinton's tried to rally with a big three run fifth.

Rouse was the winning pitcher, allowing only six hits. Ansley of Hinton's was replaced by Hough in the sixth.

Mantle's Leg Okay, Can't Explain Slump

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle climbed off the rubbing table, stepped gingerly on his injured left leg and nodded in satisfaction.

"Feels better," he muttered. "Not much pain."

The young slugger of the New York Yankees walked briskly around the room, then lifted the leg a couple of times, bending the knee sharply.

"I can still feel it. It's right there," he said, placing his hand on the fleshy part above the left knee. "I'm sure it won't bother me at the plate, but I don't think I can run on it yet."

Did he think he'd be able to play tonight in Boston?

"I will if Casey wants me to," Mickey said, "but I think a couple of days rest should fix me up okay."

Was he referring to his leg or his batting slump?

"The leg," he answered. "A fellow can't get out of a batting slump sitting on the bench."

What is wrong? Could be account for his drop from .345 to .310 in the space of two weeks?

"Nope," he said. "There's nothing wrong with me, outside of this thing (pulled leg muscle). I'm swinging the same way. It's just one of those things, I guess."

Reluctant to talk further about his sudden sag at the plate Mantle excused himself, went over to his locker and donned his street clothes.

He already had departed from Yankee Stadium by the time the Yankee-Dodger exhibition got under way. He was to have participated in the special homer-hitting contest preceding the game but had received Manager Casey Stengel's permission to bypass the game.

"I don't know whether I'll play him or not," said Casey. "I'll ask him about the leg tomorrow. If he says it's okay, I suppose I'll play him."

Trainer Gus Mauch, who taped up the region where Mantle pulled a muscle while running out an infield grounder in Sunday's game against Cleveland, declined to guess how serious the injury may be.

A rest for Mantle might be just what the doctor ordered at that. In his last 18 times at bat, he's made but one hit, a single. His batting average for the 14-game home stand was an anemic .192.

Country Club Golfers In Busy Period

Herb Petrich, Russ Reichard, and Knute Minnard were the Class A winners of Wednesday's tournament at the Marion Country Club.

Class B winners were Dr. D. W. Brickley, Robert Cripps, Jack Weis, Warren Rowley and James Harmon. Class C were E. L. Mitchell, Cline Welch and Fred Sage.

The tournament for the President's Cup must be played by Sunday. In Class A, J. B. Bray will play John Rix, Russ Reichardt plays David Isaly, John Dugan plays Robert Hastings and Morey Cornell plays David Pollak.

The opponents in Class B are Jay Maish and Joe Scandling, Carl Knirk and Bill Buettin, Paul Hunt and Bill Foster, and Jack Kinter and Warren Rowley. In Class C are Francis Huber and Bill Eikenbury, William Charle and Charles Sisler, Cliff Boettcher and John J. Dugan, and Fred Sage and Dr. Wm. Leffler.

On July 4 there will be a flag tournament at the Country Club.

Epworth, Trinity and St. Mary Win Second Round Openers

The second round of the Church Softball League opened at Garfield Park Monday evening with Epworth Methodist, Trinity Baptist and St. Mary No. 1 taking victories.

First round champs, Epworth Methodist, downed the Church of the Brethren, 7-1, as Howard Gilbert came up with a three-hit performance. Epworth broke a first inning 1-1 tie with two tallies in the third inning, added a single run in the fourth and finished off with an insurance rally in the sixth with three runs. Kridler hit a home run for Epworth in the sixth inning to start the three-run burst. Epworth's victory was its seventh straight in Church League play this season, six of the wins coming in the first round.

Trinity Baptist squeezed by St. Mary No. 2 in the opener. Trinity entered the final inning holding a 6-2 lead and nearly blew it as St. Mary came up with three runs, one short of a tie ballgame. The Irish began the final inning with a base on balls and three straight hits before Trimmer got the side out. Trimmer gave up a total of five hits in receiving credit for Trinity's win, while his mates were reaching Buchanan for a total of seven hits.

St. Mary No. 1 scored 16 runs in the fourth inning to run wild over Wesley Methodist, 23-1, in the finale at Garfield. The Irish at the time of the outburst were holding a 7-1 lead. Twenty men went to the plate in the fourth, seven reaching on base hits, the others by walks and shoddy Wesley fielding. Larry Lesser hit a home run during the run fest with one man on base. The game was called at the end of five innings because of the special 10-run ruling.

Woman Driver Wins at Hilliards

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Mrs. Jo Lois Norris, only woman driver at Hilliards Raceway, won her first race of the meeting Monday night before, appropriately enough, a ladies crowd of 2,862.

Mrs. Norris guided the 12-year-old Peter Agile to a photo finish decision in the first race. Her backers received a $12.60 straight return.

A brother combination, Forrest and James Edwards, took the lions share of the honors in the first and second co-feature races.

Forrest drove Sir Longfellow to victory in both heats of the first co-feature and brother James finished first and second in the other second-biller behind General Meredith, a trotter which had won five straight.

Tribe Opens Detroit Series

Houtteman to Hurl Against Former Mates

DETROIT (AP)—Two Detroit residents who wore Tiger uniforms until two weeks ago will be batterymates tonight for the Cleveland Indians who play last-place Detroit all this week.

Righthander Art Houtteman, who had been with the Tigers since 1945, will be after his second victory as a Tribe starter. His catcher will be Joe Ginsberg who has hit safely six times in 17 at-bats for .353 since he joined Cleveland.

Ned Garver (6-6) who stands 1-1 against the Indians this season, was Detroit's probable moundsman.

After the three - game series series here, the two teams move to Cleveland for a night game Friday and an Independence Day doubleheader Saturday.

Armory Wrestling Matches Go To Thursday With Six Man Tag Team Match

Radio Star Ends Six-Year Disguise

"Lonesome Gal," Ex-Ohio Disk Jockey, Unmasks

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lonesome Gal, seductive-voiced radio star, performs a little strip tease today and sheds her famous mask.

She has even permitted the first newspaper photos taken without her mask in the six years she has been wooing lonely males via the airwaves.

The reason for the shedding is a sound one. She is shrewd enough to know that any gimmick can be overdone. Also, her fan mail has tipped her to a new idea.

When she first started, her mail, averaging 1,000 letters a month, used to be about 10 to 1 male over female. Lately, it has switched to 7 to 3 female over male.

"So I decided that from now on I'll slant my show more toward the women, giving beauty hints and so forth," she said.

She has adhered so rigidly to the no-picture policy that she and her husband never before had posed together—not even for a wedding picture.

Yes, fellows, Lonesome Gal has been married for four years and is quick to credit her husband for boosting her into the better than $100,000-a-year income bracket.

She is Jean King Rousseau, wife of Bill Rousseau, veteran radio producer and director who was one of the originators of "Dragnet."

An attractive brunette of 29, she was born in Dallas, Tex., but lived most of her life out here. She has been a Goldwyn girl in the movies, a radio actress, even a radio engineer. In 1947, she found herself broke and homestick for her family who were living in Dayton, O.

She went there and got herself a job on station WING as a disc jockey. Lonely in a strange town, she conceived the idea for Lonesome Gal. She stayed there for two years and decided, on an impulse, to come back to Hollywood.

"Would you believe it?" she asks. "I had an awful time selling the show here because Hollywood, of all places, thought it was too sexy for radio. I never had that complaint in Dayton."

Then she married Rousseau, who saw the national possibilities of Lonesome Gal. They started making transcriptions.

"When we married in 1949," she recalled, "our combined income was $90 a week. Nine months later, we had grossed $100,000. It's been that way ever since."

The whole operation is carried on in a $90,000 home in the San Fernando Valley. A studio is located by the swimming pool, and there the two make the transcriptions used by 60 stations throughout the country.

Even her next-door neighbors aren't aware that she is anything but a housewife.

Green Camp Knights Plan July 2 Event

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP — Scioto Ladge, No. 772, Knights of Phyis will have a watermelon and cantaloupe feast on July 2, following the regular lodge session.

Election and installation of officers will be the main business of the evening. Plans will also be discussed for the summer jubilee, an annual event sponsored by the lodge. Grover Bosart, Sr., Bobbie Wolfinger and F. M. Bowling will serve on the social committee.

ELDER TO SPEAK

Elder Alma Sonne, assistant to the Council of the Twelve Apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, will be in Marion on Thursday. He will speak at the Chapel Heights Memory Gardens Chapel at 7:30 that evening. With him will be Loren L. Richards, new mission president for the Great Lakes Mission. The service will be open to the public, it was announced.

Notes on Bermuda

By Hal Boyle

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—Pages from a Bermuda notebook:

Bermuda is a real tourist paradise—but it is a paradise on a long term basis only for the home folks.

Many a visiting American capitalist, on first view, says:

"Boy, this is for me—no income tax, no inheritance tax, no sales tax, no big public debt. I think I'll move my money over here and go into business."

But if he investigates, he learns the sad fact that this is a tight little island, and that Bermuda is for the Bermudians. He finds that he can't go to work here unless he has lived in Bermuda for seven years or gets special permission from the government. He finds that any company that does business here must be at least 60 per cent owned by British stockholders. He finds that only a total of 2,000 acres of the 21-square mile colony can be owned by non-Bermudians.

He may also be dolefully surprised to learn that property along Front St. the main business thoroughfare, is about as high-priced as footage on Fifth Ave., in New York.

One American tax attorney, whose inquiries disillusioned him on the future of Bermuda as a refuge for the wealthy tax-oppressed, said:

"You have to get an act of Parliament here even to open a hot dog stand."

Real financial and political control is held by a dozen or so old Bermuda families—here from 100 to 300 years — known jocularly, even among themselves, as "The Forty Thieves."

Bermuda has known many economic ups and downs in the last three centuries. But some of its first families have over that time held on to fortunes made in waves of wealth from many sources—first tobacco, then salt, then privateering and smuggling, the export of fresh vegetables, prohibition whisky, and, finally, real estate and tourists.

Today the colony depends for 85 per cent of its trade on tourists, and the old families own or control most of the hotels and shops that cater to them. The wealth is handed down from generation to generation, and few sons of the old families migrate.

Half a century ago Bermuda was noted for having more old maids per capita than any other place in the world. This was because of a quirk in the inheritance law then.

It provided that, in a family without sons, the property would be divided among the daughters. But if a girl married her share then went back to the other daughters.

This created old maids wholesale because:

A. Many a daughter hesitated to trade a steady income for a husband who might not be so steady and

B. Many a gallant suitor hesitated to wed a wealthy girl who would become a pauper at the altar.

A taxi driver told me:

"You can't blame the first families for holding on to what they have, but if you aren't born in one of those families you might as well leave. A poor man doesn't have the same chance to get ahead here as he does in other countries."

But many of those who do migrate elsewhere in search of more opportunity often come back. They miss the leisurely life. After all there is little utter proverty here, no real slums, and a man who is willing to work can usually find a job.

Mark Twain and Woodrow Wilson would miss the old Bermuda they loved if they came back now. For it has become part of the machine age.

Bermuda broke with its slow-paced past in 1946 when it finally voted to permit motor cars on the islands, and many an old - timer still grumbles:

"Now a man has to die and go to heaven to get away from the automobile."

The cars are small low-powered British models and each family is allowed to have only one.

This actor, famous for more than half a century, has played some 150 roles on Broadway and on the road. He played "Cyrano de Bergerac" 1,016 times. After schooling in Brooklyn and at Harvard, he went to Paris to study cello, singing and dancing. He started his stage career in London at 22.

Man, 61, Seeks Transcontinental Walking Record

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—A 61-year-old man trying to break the transcontinental walking record stopped briefly in Wheeling for a rest late yesterday.

David Will Power, who said he left California April 20, admitted the hills of neighboring Eastern Ohio had left him a little tired when he arrived in Wheeling. After a short rest, he set out again last night.

Power is accompanied on his coast-to-coast walk by two men who remain close by in a small automobile. The trio camps out at night.

Power said he is trying to break the 77-day record which was set in 1910 by Edward Payson Weston. Power hopes to be in New York City by July 11.

Formosa Problem

By George Sokolsky

No Far Eastern solution can omit Formosa. There stands a government which is recognized by the United States and holds a seat in the United Nations, as representing the Chinese people. The fact is that this government was defeated on the mainland by a revolutionary body supported in its rebellion by Soviet Russia, also a member of the United Nations.

SOKOLSKY

The British and a large number of other countries have recognized the Chinese Communists as the government of China. They propose that the Nationalists be deprived of their seat in the United Nations and that the Chinese Communists be given that seat.

-:-

THAT IS ONE issue that is to be raised at the Bermuda conference between Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Eisenhower.

Lord Henderson, in a full dress speech in the House of Lords, stated the British position fully:

"Her Majesty's government recognise the Pekin government, and there can surely be no doubt that, following a Korean peace, it is the government's intention to support the admission of Pekin representatives to the United Nations.

"The second problem, the problem of Formosa, is more complex and presents special difficulties. The Pekin government claim it. The Chinese Nationalists occupy it. . . I have also seen the suggestion that Formosa should enjoy a period of trusteeship under the United Nations.

"What, in fact, will be the future status of Formosa is a matter which will be settled in negotiations for a Far Eastern peace, but if peace throughout Asia is to be (to use President Eisenhower's words) 'true and total,' one clear decision seems to be called for—that is, that Formosa cannot be allowed to continue to be used as a Chinese Nationalist base from which to carry on civil war and to build up and launch armed attacks on the Chinese mainland. . "

THIS IS a very curious statement. The Formosan government was up to 1948 the universally recognized government of China, allied to Great Britain as well as to the United States. It had been the second most important participant in the Far Eastern phase of World War II. The Chinese Communists were the insurgents who conducted a civil war against the duly constituted government of China.

True, under plans for a truce between the Nationalists and the Communists arranged by Gen. George Marshall, the rebels were victorious on the mainland, but they did not succeed in destroying the Nationalists, who took refuge on Formosa and have maintained a government there.

How can Lord Henderson say that the duly constituted government, with a seat in the United Nations, is conducting a civil war against the rebels?

Nothing in international law explains such a paradox. Nothing under the United Nations Charter creates such a condition.

Lord Henderson was undoubtedly stating the formal policy of the British government, which recognized the Chinese Communists in pursuit of trade.

THESE VIEWS have never publicly been proclaimed as the policy of either the Truman or the Eisenhower administration.

As regards a United Nations trusteeship for Formosa, it was first mentioned by Secretary of State Dulles in April at an off-the-record conversation with selected newsmen.

Dulles subsequently denied that such was the United States plan. The White House also disclaimed it.

This plan will never be accepted by Chiang Kai-shek any more than Syngman Rhee has accepted the occupation of his country by Chinese Communists and Indian troops.

From my long experience with Asiatic peoples, I can only see massacres, assassinations and terror in the future.

The Koreans will no more submit to the presence of Hindus in their country than they submitted to the Japanese and to Chinese Communists. They even opposed a Formosan participating army.

THE AMERICANS were not resisted because the Koreans knew, as all Asiatics do, that Americans always go home. They are not empire-builders and they have no desire to occupy the lands of other peoples.

That has never been the history of the Chinese or the Hindus, who have in their history occupied areas imperialistically.

China held Korea in suzerainty for 300 years; Japan annexed Korea.

Similarly, the Chinese Nationalists, while they can work with the United States, cannot risk a United Nations trusteeship which can only be a forerunner to handing the island over to the Chinese Communists.

Our allies have more trouble with our varying policies than the countries that engaged us in war.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police, checking on a drugstore holdup, questioned a man last night, but he wouldn't talk—just kept chewing.

The officers soon found out why—he had seven $10 bills in his mouth.

They booked John Sawyer, 24, St. Louis laborer, as suspected of larceny.

Meat-Loving Burglar Caught With "Dessert"

BALTIMORE (AP)—An 18-year-old boy who became known to police as the "pork chop burglar" after a series of meat thefts here was caught yesterday.

But it was the dessert instead of the main course that led to his arrest, police said.

Officers investigating a lunchroom where meat had been stolen found two paper bags stuffed with candy that had been abandoned in the rear of the store. They waited for the burglar's "sweet tooth" to bring him back.

Soon they saw a figure slink into the building, they told Magistrate William F. Laukaitis. They pounced on him.

The defendant, Robert Brown, was ordered held in $2,500 bail on burglary charges.

Police said they found 36 pounds of meat stored in Brown's refrigerator at his home.

Special Bill to Aid Citizenship Seekers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower called congressional immigration specialists to the White House today to witness the signing of legislation to speed citizenship to aliens who serve in the U. S. armed forces.

The legislation, backed by leading veterans' groups, the Defense and Justice Departments, makes eligible for citizenship aliens who serve 90 days in the U. S. armed forces between June 25, 1950, and July 1, 1955. In some cases, residence in this country for one year prior to military service is required.

THEFT BACKFIRES

SPENCER, W. Va., (UP)—A 15-year-old Nicholas County boy admitted the theft of a bicycle to state police, but he wasn't able to produce the stolen property. The bike was stolen from him shortly after he took it from the back porch of its owner.

Partners in Progress

This is Erie day in Marion, which means a day of extraordinary importance, for the Erie occupies a very important place in this city and its neighboring area.

For that matter, every day is an Erie day for Marion and has been during all the many years that have passed since the original Erie line was laid through this part of Ohio.

Marion's progress has been linked closely with the Erie railroad, to the extent that the history of the community and that of the railroad can be regarded as the history of a virtual partnership of allied interests in which cooperation and friendly understanding have prevailed at all times.

This has been especially true during the last half century or possibly the last 75 years, which marked the transition of Marion from what was primarily an agricultural locality to a thriving industrial center.

Needless to say, the Erie contributed much to agricultural development and prosperity during the earlier years as it provided transportation for the farm produce and livestock coming from the rich land surrounding Marion. Then this same railroad served in the same capacity as an aid to the industries which began to develop here with start of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. and the Huber Manufacturing Co., along about three-quarters of a century ago.

This relationship is continuing with the passing years and of course Marion's growth and industrial expansion have contributed at the same time to the Erie's rise to eminence in the field of transportation. It is and has been a most pleasant and mutually profitable association which today is at a new high mark with the establishment here of the great new modern Erie Diesel shop.

The Open House program arranged by the railroad officials to give people of Marion an opportunity to visit the Diesel Shop, along with the visit here of the Erie's president and board of directors is a notable expression of the company's friendly feeling for the community and recognition of its importance in the Erie system.

Marion is proud to be given this recognition and is happy to have such a distinguished group of transportation officials as its guests. The community hopes and expects that the friendly relationship which has been of such great value to both Marion and the Erie Railroad Company in the past will continue and result in even greater achievement of mutual value in the future.

Mortal Statesmen

Sir Winston Churchill's enforced rest dramatizes a problem of government for which no solution exists.

Whether in or out of office, Churchill has been Britain's strongest man for a generation. More than that, he has been one of the world's most cultured human beings for a long lifetime—a rallying point for all men who hold to the faith that enlightenment ultimately will rout the forces of drabness.

But even the apparently tireless Churchill must run down some day. When it happens, there will be no substitute ready to fill his place. The irony of strength in leadership is the way it denies opportunity to other would-be leaders.

The United States had to deal with this problem after Franklin D. Roosevelt had overshadowed other potential leaders for 12 years. It is manifestly a vexing problem in the Soviet Union, where Stalin's influence had been exclusively dominant for a generation.

Prime Minister Churchill's "mental fatigue" at the age of 78 was to have been expected, yet no one is ready to bear the burdens which tired him. Anthony Eden has grown old with waiting. At the age of 56, he is convalescing from an operation and may never be able to seek the responsibility he had trained himself to carry since early in World War II.

Someone Had to Say Them

A Rutgers University scholar denies any Rutgers football player ever said he would "die for dear old Rutgers." It was all a misunderstanding.

What really was said (by a Rutgers player whose leg had been broken in a game with Princeton; was, "I'd die for a drink of water." An imaginative sports reporter made the switch. The inaccuracy has been a byword ever since.

Here is a perfect example of wasted scholarship. It is of no consequence whatever that no Rutgers football player ever said he would die for his school. Someone had say it sooner or later, so Rutgers gets the credit for saying it first.

No French queen ever sneered that poor people should eat cake. No U. S. tycoon ever snorted that the public could be damned. No bureaucrat ever laid down the formula of spend and elect.

Fighting it out on this line, shooting until you see the whites of their eyes, we have just begun to fight, it's a long time between drinks—they weren't said, either. But someone had to be given credit for saying them, because sooner or later they had to be said.

The slogans men live by are more important than historic accuracy. Don't give up the ship!

Republican Blind Spot

By David Lawrence

White House Corps Falling for "Liberal" Line

Former President Truman has come and gone — but he must have derived considerable satisfaction from his survey of how effectively the organization he left behind is functioning nowadays for his cause.

For not only are there many of his appointees still in influential positions in policy - making offices in the government, but many of the members of the press corps who have been pro - New Deal and pro - Fair Deal for 20 years are doing a good job of harrassing the new administration — exaggerating unimportant issues and generally accentuating normal and natural differences of opinion on controversial subjects in the hope of widening the cracks in the Republican party.

Mr. Truman's speech in Philadelphia reviewed soberly and without rancor the policies of his own administration, with the obvious purpose of persuading all factions of the Democratic party to remain loyal to him and his policies.

But a much more important and significant pronouncement has just come from the Democratic mayor of Philadelphia, Joseph S. Clark, Jr., a Harvard graduate, a leader in the reform movement in Pennsylvania politics, and one of the devoted admirers of Gov. Stevenson.

Writing in the "Atlantic Monthly" under the title "Can the Liberals rally?", Mayor Clark analyzes the weaknesses of the Democratic party with astonishing frankness.

While he does not perceive the real trouble with the so - called "liberals" in the Democratic party — so many of whom have become confiscationists with respect to private property and savings and totalitarians with respect to tolerance of inquiries into Communist conspiracies in America—he does nevertheless say some things that had to be said to the radical wing of the Democratic party of which he is a member.

"The liberal movement," says Mayor Clark, "tends to break down when it loses its moral status . . . Some of the slick chicks around Roosevelt hurt and might indeed have ruined him had not the impending crisis of World War II made liberals feel that the need for his personal leadership outweighed the disabilities of some of his lieutenants. We have just seen what the 'deep freeze' did to Truman.

"There is a substantial body of opinion which gets disillusioned with crooked liberals. They will leave the tainted liberal cause to support an honest conservative. . . In the years immediately ahead liberals had better be honest. It is the best long-run policy for success in politics as elsewhere. History proves it."

Mayor Clark rightly puts his finger on what really defeated the Democratic party — the corruption issue. He touches, too, on the attitude of his brother "liberals" on the anti - Communist issue in politics.

He writes:

"Perhaps the greatest controversy between liberals and their adversaries in the next two years will be over what has come to be called McCarthyism. Here the contest is an old one.

"Denials of intellectual freedom and civil liberties recur constantly in our history . . . But never has the danger been greater than today. It is particularly acute because there is reason to believe that Communists have infiltrated in some positions of power and importance and because liberals have foolishly denied from time to time the existence of a clear and present danger from this source.

"Nonetheless the menace of McCarthy and his spirtual colleague, McCurran, must be fought and fought hard.

"Democracy can and must defend itself from infiltration without resorting to the tactics and techniques of totalitarians."

This brings to mind the way Mr. Truman scoffed at the original investigation of Alger Hiss by a congressional committee and called it a "red herring" to divert attention, as he said, from Republican mistakes in Congress.

It also brings to mind the failure of most "liberals" to read the official testimony and the revelations of some of those same investigating committees whose chairmen they are so ready to condemn without visiting any condemnation whatsoever on the treachery to American institutions written so plainly in the testimony before these committees for 20 years.

The Philadelphia mayor unwittingly gives away the basic strategy today of the "liberals" whose press allies in Washington are every day, under the pretense of "helping Eisenhower," doing their utmost to destroy the Republican party and, of course, eventually Dwight Eisenhower.

Says Mr. Clark:

"In the present situation the struggle for President Eisenhower's mind assumes enormous importance. It is far too early for liberals to write him off. He may yet become a great leader in the liberal tradition . . . There must be moments when the general wonders whether he is leading the right army. It would be a great thing for the future if liberals could persuade him he is not."

Is there any thought among the "liberals" of going back sometime to the proposals heard in the latter part of 1951 when the Eisenhower - for - President candidacy on the Democratic party ticket was still fondly hoped for by my so many of the Trumanites?

If the general now alienates a substantial number of Republicans and keeps on following the Truman - Acheson foreign policies and accepts the mischievous advice of the "liberals" to pick a fight and make a break with McCarthy, it could mean the very same kind of fatal split in the Republican party in 1956 which in 1912 handed victory to the Democrats on a platter. Things certainly are looking up for the Democratic party's strategists.

As for the White House entourage, its blind spot is politics. It hasn't yet waked up to the simple fact that the American people still don't know what a "mess" the general found when he took office last January.

He might have been given a far lengthier period of tolerance by the voters this year is he had unreservedly told the people all the facts about the "mess" and if a few investigating committees in Congress had determined to keep active for another year or so ferreting out the instances of corruption and abuse of authority, so much of which has not yet been uncovered.

But the Republicans in Congress already show signs of being intimadated by demands of the Democrats that they drop the "mess in Washington" as an issue — and probably the Republican leadership will blindly oblige them.

Freedom of Thought

By TRUMAN TWILL

Going further into the thoughts behind his remarks at Dartmouth College about a proper philosophy for Americans, President Eisenhower told his press conference in Washington last Wednesday what he thinks is the strength of America.

Since all ideas in this category are in urgent demand, to keep the American way of life in balance, here is the transcript of the presidential remarks as published in The New York Times:

"He believes the United States is strong enough to expose to the world its differing viewpoints from those of what we call almost the man who has socialist leanings to the man who is so far to the extreme right that it takes a telescope to find him.

"But that is American, and let's don't be afraid to show it to the world because we believe that form of government, those facts, that kind of thinking, that kind of combination of things, has produced the greatest governmental entity, system of government that the world has produced."

There you have it — the definitive rebuttal to persons who argue for a state in which everybody would think the same thoughts, arrive at the same conclusions and believe in the same policies.

Diversity of opinion is typically American. It is the source of the nation's strength. The worst thing which could befall the American way of life would be the support of and enforcement of a credo of unity.

The most un - American thing that can be conceived of is the suppression of any idea non-treasonable merely because it is hateful to the suppressor. Freedom for the thought he doesn't like is the ultimate test of a free man's faith in freedom.

This works both ways. Self-styled liberals who would like to choke off so - called conservatives are just as much enemies of freedom as absolutists who would like to gag relativists, or reactionaries who would prefer to settle all arguments with radicals by putting the radicals in jail or six feet under.

Dwight Eisenhower as president of the United States is destined to grapple with many problems of general importance; that is what makes the presidency a vital office. One of these problems is going to be how to preserve freedom of thought in a time of intense controversy over ideas.

It has nothing directly to do with the bogey of Communism. It has to do with the age - old bogey which plagued men as long ago as the time when the Man of Gallilee was sentenced to die for the crime of stirring up the people with ideas hateful to the crowd which Pontius Pilate wanted to appease.

In America, says Dwight Eisenhower, we don't need to be afraid of ideas. It's American to have ideas, to let them be heard and to let free men take their choice, confident in the knowledge they will choose right if they have all the information. In America there is nothing to fear but ignorance.

British View of East-West Commerce

By Richard Denman
Of The London Economist

LONDON

Sen. McCarthy has accused Britain of aiding Communism by stepping up exports to Red China.

There is no secret about the recent increase in British sales to China. They amounted to $6,250,000 in the first quarter of this year, compared to $550,000 in the first three months of 1952.

This is certainly a startling increase. Does it run counter to U. N. or Western policy?

The U.N. resolution of May 1951 forbids the export of strategic goods to China. The Battle Act (to restrict trade between East and West) forbids all countries receiving American aid to sell strategic goods to Communist countries (especially China).

The British case, of course, is that none of the goods exported to China or other Communist countries fall within this category.

Europeans generally think that the embargoes on trade with China have been relatively ineffective. For one thing, they cannot apply to countries such as Ceylon, which are neither members of the U. N. nor recipients of American aid.

Ceylon has to import rice to feed its people. It pays for this rice by exporting raw materials, of which rubber is one of the most important.

Ceylon has tried without success to sell its rubber in the U. S. at prices it considers reasonable. As the result, Ceylon now exports half its rubber crop to China in exchange for rice, at highly favorable exchange rates.

The Battle Act and the U. N. embargo also have been largely frustrated by smuggling (especially through Macao, the Portuguese free port opposite Hong Kong), and by the division of goods in transit. (An importer in one Western country orders strategic materials from another Western country. While the goods are in transit, he orders them to be diverted to a destination behind the Iron Curtain.)

Many people in Britain do not think the Battle Act has been a success, but even so, Britain has cooperated loyally in its implementation. Unfortunately, British and American views on what constitute "strategic goods" by no means coincide.

Britain's main exports to China are woolen goods, textile machinery and drugs especially penicillin. Each of these could be of strategic importance but there is no way of telling whether any of these goods in fact are used for military purposes. In British eyes, it would be inhumane to deny penicillin to the Chinese people, simply because some of it may be used for the Chinese army.

Moreover, America has gone a long way toward sabotaging its own restrictions, by continuing to buy goods from China even after the U. S. stopped selling to China. In 1950, 1951 and 1952 China exported $228 million of goods to the U.S.—four times as much as it exported to Britain.

Since in the same period Chinese imports from America only amounted to $46 million (all in 1950), China is one of the very few countries in the world with a surplus of dollars to spend on imports from other countries. (Admittedly, most of these dollar balances are now blocked in the U. S., but it is doubtful how effective this move has been.)

Exports to China therefore offer an easy source of dollars for European and Asiatic traders. The only way to stop this trade is for the U. S. to stop buying from China.

Britain is not prepared to go beyond the Battle Act and the U. N. resolution, and restrict what is regarded here as essentially non-strategic trade with China. Most Englishmen think that China can and must be detached from economic dependence on the U.S.S.R.

The extent to which China is developing its "back door" to Russia, through Manchuria, Sinkiang and even Tibet, and the rapid growth of overland communications with Siberia, are regarded here with alarm.

We would like to see China, as in the past, open to the flow of trade and ideas from the West by sea, rather than facing inward to Central Asia.

There is, indeed, much evidence that China itself dislikes its dependence on Russia. China is desperately short of rubles, and Russia cannot supply it fast enough with the plants, machinery and equipment needed for industrial development.

China might, therefore, in Britain's view, be willing to pay a price for freer trade with the West. Mao Tse-tung may yet prove a bigger and better Tito.

There are other factors behind Britain's desire for trade with China. While direct trade between the two countries always has been small, British shipping has played a prominent part in China's coastal and overseas trade. Restrictions in trade since 1951 have led to very depressed conditions among British shipping companies operating in the Far East.

More important is the case of Hong Kong. This British colony lives largely by trade with China, which also supplies it with food. Now it depends more than ever on this trade to feed its 2,500,000 people. The population of Hong Kong is five times what it was before the war—mainly through the arrival of refugees from Communist China.

Since 1951 Hong Kong's exports to China have fallen by 70 per cent, as a result of western restrictions.

The depression this has caused locally already has led to a dangerous growth of Communism in Hong Kong. If trade with the mainland were cut off altogether, this vaulable Western base (a sort of Asiatic Berlin) could be starved into submission to Communism.

For all these reasons, Sen. McCarthy's views on trade with China find no atom of support in this country. In fact, as the recent Vienna Congress of the International Chamber of Commerce has shown, business opinion throughout Europe and Asia is turning more and more in favor of increased East-West trade.

This is directly due to the tapering off of U. S. non-military aid, and the increasingly protectionist attitude of the administration and Congress (the chief Joseph Dam affair created a very bad impression here). Nobody likes the idea of being dependent on the Communists for food and raw materials, but if they cannot earn the dollars to buy from American, more and more countries may have to follow Ceylon's example. This feeling is strongest in Western Germany and Japan; neither of these nations can be accused of Communist sympathies.

Americans may find this rather shocking. They should. But the remedy is in their hands. Europe is not asking for more aid, but for the opportunity to earn more dollars by trade with America.

4 Youthful N.Y. Bandits Hold "Party"

Dentist, Doctor, 18 Others Robbed In "Surprise" Holdup

NEW YORK (AP) — Four young bandits — with time on their hands and larceny on their minds—staged a "surprise party" yesterday for a dentist, a woman physician and 18 others.

The quartet took over for four hours the Brooklyn house used by the dentist and physician, admitting 15 patients as they arrived, robbing them of jewels and cash, and keeping them prisoner through the siege.

But the four young men, before fleeing in fright when the physician fainted, treated their victims to drinks and snacks and even returned some of their loot at the request of three patients.

It all started late in the afternoon in the three-story house owned by Dr. Sonya A. Monen, 50. She lives there and has an office there. The dentist, Dr. Irving K. Madow, rents rooms there for an office.

The four robbers, apparently in their late teens or early 20s, first invaded the dentist's ground floor offices. One youth held a pistol, two others carried switchblade knives.

Madow and a patient he was attending were promptly herded into Dr. Monen's dining room. Then the robbers rounded up a maid and Dr. Monen's daughter, Mrs. Isabel Whitehall, who also happened to be in the house at the time. Dr. Monen was absent.

At first, the bandit quartet went about their business in a determined and rough manner. They bound and gagged the four persons with adhesive tape.

However, after a half hour, when the victims complained of thirst, the intruders released them.

Soon patients started arriving. The robbers greeted them and took them into the dining room.

The thieves split up, a pair ransacking the house while the others stood guard in the dining room.

During the ordeal, the bandits raided Dr. Monen's refrigerator and passed out beer and soft drinks, crackers, cheese and raw carrots to their "guests."

The quartet leisurely relieved their captives of cash and jewelry. But they returned some watches and rings of modest value to the three patients, who pleaded they be allowed to keep the articles.

It was about 7:30 p. m. when Dr. Monen returned to her home and found the "party" going on. She too was greeted by a robber, who demanded that she open a safe in a hall closet.

Her reply was a scream. Then she collapsed.

Obviously alarmed, the robbers made a hasty departure.

An inventory by their victims disclosed that the four obtained loot consisting of $345 and a $500 cocktail ring. Police said they apparently took nothing from the house.

Police Report Two Accidents

Two minor traffic accidents and one traffic arrest were reported today by Marion police.

The right front end of a car driven by Alice Rose Conner of Huron County was damaged in a collision with a truck driven by Leroy V. Frost, 27, of 131 Garden St. in the 500 block on N. Main St. at 1:20 p.m. Monday. Police reported both were driving north and there was no damage to the truck.

The rear end of a car driven by Gus A. LaVenia, 19, of 585 Sugar St. was damaged when struck by another car driven by Leroy W. Clauer, 59, of 402 Mt. Vernon Ave. at 9:57 p.m. Monday in the 300 block on E. Center St. Police reported both were traveling east. There was no damage reported to Clauer's car.

James Melvin Barnhart, 38, of Marysville was arrested at 12:30 p.m. on N. Main St. on a charge of driving left of the center line. He pleaded guilty in Municipal Court and was fined $15 and costs.

special observances by cities and counties throughout the state and gave the committee a number of helpful suggestions on what might be done in Marion County during the remainder of the year. Marion County, he observed, is one of the few counties in the state without definite plans for some observance.

Robert T. Mason served as temporary chairman and presented the speaker, Mr. Hale was in charge for the election of new officers after which Mr. Grigsby presided.

Present for the meeting were Mr. Grigsby, Mr. Hale, Mr. Mason, Mrs. Probst, Miss Mabel M. Wheatley, Miss Pansy Rauhauser, H. A. True, Dr. F. A. Stengel, Edwin J. Kinter, Ray W. Beverly, Mrs. B. N. Salzman, Mrs. W. G. Wheeler, Mrs. Axe, Miss Madge Cooper, Miss Mary K. Stone and Miss Dutton.

FIVE DRIVERS ARRESTED

Five arrests were made by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post Monday. Persons arrested, their charge and disposition of cases follow: Leonard R. Robinson, 38, of Walwood, Wis., passing on the yellow line, fined $15 and costs by Mayor Nelson Lee at Crestline; Minnie Knowlton of Russell's Point, speeding, posted bond for appearance in Municipal Court today; George L. Young, 31, of near Marion, parked on paved portion of highway, cited to appear in Municipal Court today; Fred W. Leib, 50, of Cleveland, no operator's license, fined $15 and costs by Justice of Peace R. R. Bennington at Mt. Gilead; Willis Noel, 38, of Youngstown, speeding, fined $15 and costs by Bennington.

Rain Comes Too Late For Much of Texas

Four-Year Drought Turns West Texas Into Wasteland

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—An inland sweep of tropical storms today pushed showers toward West Texas and Oklahoma farm areas for which President Eisenhower made available an eight-million dollar drought disaster fund.

Downpours, as heavy as 6 inches at Baytown, scattered over East and Central Texas yesterday in time to save pastures, cotton, peaches, late corn and vegetables in many counties.

Forecasters expected scattered rain to drift into dried-up West Texas and Oklahoma. But in much of the area a four-year drought has so denuded the soil of plant cover that rain would fall only on sandy wastes. Most of the West Texas wheat crop and much of the cotton is gone. Pastures are crisp and useless.

The White House announcement yesterday said relief funds would be allocated to 152 counties in Texas and 40 in Oklahoma. The counties were to be named in a formal Washington announcement today.

Meanwhile, Gov. Edwin Mechem of New Mexico appealed to President Eisenhower for federal aid in New Mexico's drought crisis. He planned to fly to Washington today.

In the Senate, Minority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) and 12 other senators introduced a bill to provide money and power to meet disasters such as the Southwest drought. The measure would authorize government loans to farmers and stockmen at 4 per cent interest. Sen. Johnson told senators he had consulted several government agencies "and they do not know whether they have the authority to do the things that must be done."

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who returned to Washington from a week-end inspection of the Texas drought area, said the first steps in the administration program would be aimed at speeding emergency feed to livestock growers. He said growers will get the feed "at a level somewhat below the support level" for the feeds involved. Feed will come from stocks of the Commodity Credit Corporation with any losses made up from the President's emergency fund.

PLAN TOLEDO PLANT

CLEVELAND (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. has announced plans to build a plant in Toledo to manufacture powdered iron under a new process at the rate of 50,000 pounds a day. Powdered iron is used in die-press production of gears and other precision mechanical parts, and for flame scarfing and cutting as a means of intensifying the flame.

Marion County Bull Judged Show Champ

Jersey Breeders In District Exhibit Cattle at Fairgrounds

A bull owned by Ralph Denzer and Sons and Newell Davids and Son, Marion County cattle breeders, was judged grand champion bull at the parish show of the sixth district of Ohio Jersey Breeders held Saturday at the Marion County Fairgrounds.

A total of 35 Jerseys were shown. The sixth district includes Marion, Morrow, Hardin, Wyandot and Crawford Counties.

The junior grand champion female was owned by Daniels and Houser of Kenton and the senior champion belonged to Newell Davids and Son of Prospect.

The junior get of sire class was won by get of Basilouis Thomas Valient owned by Daniels and Houser of Kenton. The senior get of sire was won by get of Brampton W. R. Royalist owned by Pearl Pfeiffer of Kenton and the produce of dam class was topped by the entry of Ralph Denzer and Sons of Waldo.

Richard Jaggers of Mt. Gilead won the senior showmanship class open to all senior exhibitors.

In the junior division, Douglas Denzer won the junior calf class, Paul Burgderfer of McClutchenville the senior calf class, and Rose Ann Pfeiffer of Kenton the junior yearling class. Dana Daniels led the senior yearling class and Jay Pfeiffer of Kenton took first place in the production class and later his two-year-old was declared grand champion of the junior division of the show.

Last class of the day, showmanship of the junior exhibitors, was won by Carol Jean Pfeiffer of Kenton.

Trophies were awarded the grand champion bulls and grand champion of the junior show while other winners received rosettes and ribbons. It was announced the district planned to have a district herd at the Ohio State Fair Sept. 1 and 2.

Francis Eustis of Breeze Ridge Farms, Lebanon, O., was judge for the show which got under way at 12:30 p.m.

Begin Mass Test of New Polio Vaccine

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Years of weary trial-and-error research that cost millions of dollars gets the first full-scale tryout here today in a history-making effort to save a stricken city from a polio epidemic.

The first of more than 30,000 youngsters scheduled to be inoculated with polio-resisting gamma globulin during the next four days trooped to injection stations with anxious parents this morning.

The nation's polio fighters hope this unprecedented mass inoculation will not only stop the fierce outbreak, but will also sound the death knell for future unchecked ravages of crippling infantile paralysis viruses.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has shipped in 67 gallons of the scarce GG serum together with 30,000 hypodermic needles, 15,000 syringes and stacks of other equipment.

The community itself, frightened by the daily climb to 81 polio cases, is tackling the huge inoculation job on a volunteer basis unparalleled in the city's history.

. The gamma globulin doesn't give permanent immunity. But experts think the month of protection it does provide will halt the pending epidemic through the worst of the hot weather "polio season."

At 18 inoculating stations, hundreds of volunteers helped today in the task of dressing and undressing thousands of babies and small children.

Medical staffs at nearby Maxwell and Gunter Air Force Bases aided doctors here in the emergency. And the county health board at Columbus, Ga., 80 miles distant, has offered to help.

The national foundation is picking up most of the estimated million-dollar bill.

Mrs. Mary Rowley Dies in City Hospital

Mrs. Mary L. Rowley, 70, widow of Warren J. Rowley, died at 10:45 a.m. today in City Hospital, following an illness of one month. Her home was at 298 E. Church St.

Born June 9, 1883, in Evansville, Wis., she was a daughter of Lafayette Loomis and Mary Loomis, both natives of Geneva, N.Y. Her husband, whom she married June 23, 1907, in Evansville, Wis., died Dec. 10, 1942. She was a member of the Congregational Church and an active member of the DAR for 20 years. A resident of Marion 29 years, she came here from Evansville, Wis.

Surviving are two sons, Warren J. Rowley Jr., 466 Forest St., and Clifford Rowley of 1804 Wellsley Dr., Toledo, four grandchildren, a brother, Harry Loomis of Evansville, Wis.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Boyd Funeral Home by the Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran Church. Friends may call at the funeral home after 10 a.m. Wednesday. The body will be sent to Evansville, Wis., for burial there.

Fish Find Girl's Hair Irresistible

PROVO, Utah (UP)—A local lass accustomed to wearing her hair long is cutting it short this year—to please local fishermen.

It all started last summer when a Provo angler noticed that Nan S. Eccles' hair was a rich mixture of copper and gold. Her persuaded her to clip off a lock of hair and he used it to make a fishing fly.

The fish couldn't stay away from the lure and he caught a lot, including an eight-pounder.

The fame of her hair soon spread, and all the local fishermen are asking for locks of it to use on fishing flies.

Ike Wins on Tax Issue

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The main point of the struggle inside the Republican party over the excess profits tax is that President Eisenhower seems certain to get what he wanted.

To get that, his supporters could have plunged the Republicans in the House into a torrid, wide-open family fight. Or they could have taken a detour around it. They chose the detour.

In doing so they beat Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York. This oldest Republican in continuous service in the House was the main obstacle to Eisenhower's desire for extension of the excess profits tax on corporations.

But they did it in such a way that they avoided smashing a congressional tradition — the almost sacred right of a committee to handle its own affairs—and thus avoided the fight which would have tested Eisenhower's leadership.

Many members of the House who might have voted to give Eisenhower the extension of the profits tax at the same time were in a mood to go against him in any move that meant trampling on committee tradition.

The tax dies automatically at midnight tonight. Eisenhower asked Congress to continue it through Dec. 31. His strongest and loudest opponent was Reed, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

It was Reed's committee which had the task of considering whether excess profits should die or be extended. Almost invariably, on any important problem, a committee examines it before the full House can vote on it.

If a committee majority then votes against a measure, that almost always ends it. It never gets up to the House for a vote. And if a committee doesn't vote at all, the effect is the same. The measure is virtually dead.

And extremely rarely, when a committee votes against a piece of legislation or fails to vote, is any attempt made to snatch it out of that committee's hands and bring it to a House vote.

In short, committee approval is the necessary preliminary to getting a bill up to a House vote. Reed tried to defeat Eisenhower and let the profits tax die tonight by refusing to call his committee to vote on it.

Eisenhower's congressional lieutenants then got another powerful committee, the rules committee, to take the tax bill out of the hands of Reed's committee and send it to the floor yesterday for a vote. This bypassing of the ways and means committee brought a storm in the House.

There never seemed much doubt that if the tax extension came to a House vote, it would pass. But before there could be a vote on the tax itself, the House had to vote, in effect, on whether it approved the tactics of the Eisenhower forces in bypassing the ways and means committee.

This was where many of those who would have voted for the tax itself might vote against bringing it up in the way it was done. A vote against Eisenhower on that score would have been a vote against his leadership.

Would Eisenhower have lost on this? Speaker Joseph Martin says no, that the President had enough votes to win all the way through. But it would have been a bitter struggle.

Just before it was ready to start, Eisenhower's supporters found a way to avoid the showdown. They got enough members of the ways and means committee to agree to vote on the excess profits tax in the usual, orderly fashion.

It was believed that a majority of Reed's committee, if permitted to vote before all this arose, would have voted for what Eisenhower wanted. But none of them protested very strenuously when Reed didn't let them come together for a vote.

Reed, forced into calling a meeting of his committee for July 8, nevertheless remained defiant and said he would oppose the tax extension himself.

Now, no matter when the House approves, as it's expected to do, the tax can be made retroactive to June 30.

Dr. Sifritt

During this program short talks were presented by Miss Bush, Mr. Ey, Dr. E. L. Brady, and County Auditor Maurice Clements.

At the end of the program a plaque "in recognition of meritorious service and for his contribution in the field of public health in Marion County and in the state of Ohio" was presented to the retiring health commissioner from the health board and the staff of the health department.

Making the presentation was Dr. Milton Axthelm, a member of the board.

His early medical training was procured at Ohio Northern University in Ada where he received his degree in pharmacy. After working as a pharmacist in Rousville, Pa., Richwood, and Lima, he took up the study of medicine at the Cincinnati Medical School where he received his degree in medicine in 1896. He then took up the practice of medicine in LaRue where he also owned a drug store.

Appointed in 1920

In 1920 he was appointed part-time health commissioner of Marion County and the following year he took over this position on a full-time basis, giving up his private practice of medicine in LaRue. He moved his residence to Marion in 1930.

In the early fight against diphtheria and smallpox, Marion County was considered one of the most progressive counties in Ohio through the efforts of Dr. Sifritt to control and stamp out these diseases. He also was an early advocate of the practice of physicians reporting births and deaths speedily and accurately.

In August of 1936, through the cooperation of Dr. Sifritt with the Ohio Department of Health, the Marion County Health Department became one of the first two training centers for public health nurses in Ohio. The first student was accepted in November of 1936.

Throughout the 33 years of Dr. Sifritt's administration, the Marion County Health Department has acted somewhat as an experiment station for the Ohio Department of Health, being among the first to try many beneficial practices later adopted throughout the state.

Between 1920 and 1922 the principal work of the Marion Health Department consisted of examination of school children and control of communicable diseases, Dr. Sifritt recalls.

Set Up Pre-School Clinic

The importance of broadening the scope of the department in education of public health matters was recognized by Dr. Sifritt when he scheduled the first pre-school clinic in 1921, and through his efforts the first orthopedic clinics were established in Marion County in 1922.

In 1925 Dr. Sifritt, assisted by a Cleveland physician, conducted a goiter survey in Marion County which revealed that about 30 per cent of the children had enlarged thyroid glands. Every child was given the privilege of taking iodide salt tablets and a later survey indicated that the incidence of goiter was lower.

Dr. Sifritt has remarked that the greatest difficulty he and his staff had to overcome in the early days was the prejudice against the public health nurse going into the homes because in those days people felt there was a certain stigma connected with a visit from the health office and were reluctant to receive them.

However, the health commissioner states that this situation was changed and that today there are very few homes where the public health nurse is not well accepted.

He also feels that any advance made through the years in public health education has been facilitated by "the splendid cooperation of the schools."

A native of Marion County, Dr. Sifritt has lived here most of his life. At one time he served as president of Marion County Red Cross chapter and has also served on the board of the Tuberculosis and Health Association, on the board of the Infantile paralysis chapter, and for a number of years served on the executive board of the Ohio Public Health Association. At one time he was chairman of the Central Ohio Health Commissioners Association. He is a member of the Marion County Academy of Medicine.

Dr. Sifritt's first office as health commissioner was in the Leetonia Building on W. Center St., where it remained until April, 1922, when it was moved to its present location in the basement of the Courthouse.

By June of 1936 the health department, under Dr. Sifritt's guidance, had grown to be a staff of three nurses and one sanitarian. In that month, also, Dr. Sifritt was host to two health officers from Bulgaria and two from Romania who were on a nationwide tour surveying health administrative methods.

And in 1937 two nurses, representatives of the Rockefeller Foundation, were sent here to observe the operation of the health department. One of them, Miss Kathleen Leahy, assistant professor and director of public health nursing of the University of Washington at Seattle, recently collaborated in writing a book on "Teaching Methods in Public Health Nursing" which is widely used.

Dr. Sifritt was one of the first health commissioners to stimulate interest in a workshop for school custodians. He held the first such workshop at Pleasant School where school maintenance and improvement problems were discussed in August of 1939.

Dr. Sifritt and his wife, the former Miss Ellen Mears, make their home at 457 S. Main St. He has no definite plans for the future other than "enjoying my home and my friends." His successor in the Health Department post has not been appointed.

More Paradise

By Inez Robb

TORREMOLINOS, Spain

Have you, too, been wondering where on earth you could eventually eke out an existence on a government pension or on that little inheritance left you by good, old Aunt Agatha?

INEZ ROBB

If so, your worries are over: The Spanish Riviera is the place for you. And you won't "eke" either. You'll live like a king, or at least like a banker back home, always providing that the cruel serpent of inflation can be killed off in this garden of Eden.

I have just met an English widow who lives not only in comfort but in style on an annual income of $75 per month. That includes $11 monthly rent for a charming, modernized house, and $3.75 per month for a competent cook-housekeeper.

SHE HAS a manicure and shampoo, rinse and water wave once a week for the sum total of $1, or a modest tip in a first rate New York beauty parlor. Nor is my new friend inconvenienced by being forced to go to the hair dresser-manicurist. The latter comes to her customers and beautifies them in the privacy of their respective homes.

The village dress-maker can copy any dress or picture of a Paris model with splendid accuracy and for less than a Hoover apron would cost at home. For dress-up, you need a pair of leather shoes, and Spanish shoes are beautiful and inexpensive.

But for every day, around the house and village, you wear charming, rope-soled sandals in gay colors that cost from 35 cents to $1, depending on the design and amount of work required.

AT THE MOMENT, eggs are selling for 47 cents a dozen, chickens for 24 cents a pound, shrimp for 26 cents per pound, excellent Spanish fish for 18 cents per pound, bread for 12 cents a large loaf, potatoes for under four cents a pound, and first quality lamb, veal and pork for 50 cents per pound.

Lettuce is three cents a head, tomatoes 5 cents a pound, and I paid five cents a pound for the big, luscious ripe figs I am munching as I write.

My friends in this charming, white-washed village buried under flowers say flatly that a couple with an income of $50 per week can live here as kings once lived before they lost their jobs. This would include rental of a house and the operation of an automobile.

AND I SHOULD have pointed out a few paragraphs back for the benefit of the boys that a handsomely tailor-made suit of the best Spanish wool (and it is beautiful) can be ordered in Malaga only ten miles away for around 40 to 45 dollars.

It will cost only slightly more even in such big cities as Madrid. A tailor-made sports jacket will cost half these sums, and tailor-made slacks $10 at most.

This enchanting section of the Spanish Riviera has long been a favorite winter and summer resort of the British. The year round climate is excellent. On the 40 pounds or approximately $112 each Britisher is permitted to take out of his country for travel, he can readily spend a luxurious month here.

A modern, six-room house, plus the generous grounds on which it stands, can be built here for around $8,500. But if you can find a native house with "possibilities," the outlay is incredible—at least to an American.

A FEW DAYS ago I drove to Mijas, 12 miles from Torremolinos and one of the loveliest villages in Spain, to see a cottage on which one of my friends has a speculative eye. Mijas is a village carved out of a ledge 1,000 feet above the Mediterranean, and the cottage has an incomparable view of the sea.

The stout four-room cottage, plus terraces on two levels, is for sale for $475.

For an additional outlay of $800, my friend says he can double the size of the living room and add and equip a completely modern kitchen and bath!

Thus for only $1,275, he will own a foothold in paradise.

What are you waiting for?

what he calls giveaway programs. Senate leaders were confident the measure will be approved by a substantial majority.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee argued yesterday that with Russian control of European satellites "crumbling," this was no time for the U. S. to retrench on its foreign aid program.

Johnson said he and Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, had agreed to co-sponsor an amendment aimed at wiping out a House-approved provision which automatically would withhold about one billion in aid funds until Western European countries ratify treaties for a unified army.

The Texas senator said the amendment would leave any such action up to the discretion of the President.

While Allied casualties are not released by action or period, but only as isolated numbers from time to time, there is an obvious relation between Red and Allied losses.

Another air victory went to Navy Lt. Guy P. Bordelon, who shot down two Communist nuisance raiders Monday night 50 miles south of Seoul. Bordelon was flying a Navy propeller-driven Corsair under radar control.

Air Force officials said the area in which the two planes were shot down is believed to be the deepest penetration of South Korea made by Communist aircraft.

Air Guard Unit In Mansfield To Convert to Jets

Special to The Star

MANSFIELD—Mansfield's 164th Fighter Squadron of the Air National Guard will convert to jet-type fighter aircraft starting July 1, it was announced today by Major Albert B. Line, Squadron commander.

The National Guard Bureau, U. S. Air Force, announced the 121st Fighter Wing, Air National Guard, parent organization of the Mansfield Squadron, will receive F-80 jet fighter and T-33 jet trainer aircraft with delivery starting July 1. Eleven of the new jets are to be assigned to the Mansfield squadron.

The 164th is preparing for Mansfield's July 5th public air show, celebrating the 50th anniversary of powered flight and dedicating the complete 164th Air Base installation on Mansfield Airport.

The first 164th jet, a Lockheed T-33 dual place jet trainer, will be part of the July 5th air displays which will include many types of military and civilian aircraft both jet and propeller driven.

The changeover to jets will be gradual, requiring several months before the Mansfield unit will carry on very extensive jet operations. Line said 15 technician personnel will be placed in Air Force engineering and specialist schools to facilitate maintenance of the new type aircraft. Also pilots of the 164th will be required to complete extensive ground schooling before checking out in the F-80 jets. Actual flying of the jets will start with completion of the new 1200-foot runway extensions scheduled to be finished next month.

Major Line remarked that the 164th has long anticipated flying jet-type aircraft and that the new aircraft will put greatly increased responsibilities on the squadron in its national defense mission.

Blind Students Have Voice Textbooks

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—A "voice textbook" service—tape-recorded voices reading from books in the college curriculum—is proving a boon to blind students at the University of Pennsylvania.

The textbook recordings supplant many of the volunteer readers who helped the blind study from books of university courses not available in existing Braille literature or phonograph recordings.

The tape recordings of courses permits blind students to stop and start the tape at will, thus relieving sighted students of repeating difficult parts of the course for those they were aiding.

Erie Diesel Shop Shown

sons from Marion and the vicinity to visit the diesel shop during the course of the day. A similar open house in Hornell, N. Y. drew 9,000 persons last year.

For most of the visitors, this is their first chance to see the inside of the plant which was put up in 1944, and expanded in 1948 and 1952. This open house is a celebration of the completion of the latest addition.

Employees of other departments of the Erie line here and former employees who worked in the old Erie roundhouse have been invited to the show today. Many of the present employees have not seen the diesel shop since its completion.

Preparations for the open house have been going since April. Actual setting up of the displays has taken over two weeks.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson has proclaimed today as "Erie Open House Day" in Marion. He cited the work of the Erie line in connecting Marion with the rest of the nation and the large number of Marion citizens who are employed by the railroad. He congratulated the Erie for its "leadership in tranportation and in community advancement" and urged all citizens to participate in the open house.

This evening, the Bird McGinnis Post 162, American Legion, will present an American flag to the Erie Railroad. The flag will be given at a ceremony at the shop in which the Drum and Bugle Corp of the post will play.

Nine Years to Change

Erie took nine years to make the switch from the old-fashioned steam engines to modern diesels. The project cost more than $80,000,000. The Marion Diesel Shop, which is the first plant on the Erie line to be especially built for diesel service, is home for 117 of the Erie's 472 locomotives. As such, it takes care of the largest number of engines on the line.

Nothing is left to change in the maintainance of one of the diesels. Every time one is brought into the shop, it is given a thorough check and periodically, whether it is needed or not, a complete overhaul is made. With the high cost of living, officials estimate it would cost about $750,000 for a new locomotive.

Visitors today will see the battery repair shop at the plant. Each locomotive is equipped with $2,400 worth of batteries. When they run down, they are not traded in on new ones, but taken to the battery repair shop and charged or, if necessary, made over.

The open house will last until 9 this evening, and anyone who has not been out to the shop is invited by the officials, who say that this may be the only chance for most persons to see what happens in the huge plant. The Erie Disel Shop is located on Kenton Ave.

Trumans Try New York's Night Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman tasted the city's night life last night, turning in, shortly before 1 a. m. today.

Accompanied by Mrs. Truman, daughter Margaret and several friends, he started out with dinner at the plush "21" club.

They then took in the Broadway musical "Wonderful Town," where the ex-President met the star, Rosalind Russell, and other members of the cast. He "loved" her performance, he told Miss Russell.

The evening was rounded off with a visit to the fashionable St. Regis Hotel roof. There Miss Truman danced with her escort, Col. Warren Baker, a former White House aide.

Truman's night on the town ended a long day for the 69-year-old former President, who began it with his customary early morning walk.

During the day, he discussed the Truman Library, to be built on the Truman farm near Grandview, Mo., with national and New York leaders for the library committee.

The library, he told them, should be a national, not personal, project. "You don't need a memorial to me," he added. "I'll be cussed and discussed for the next generation, at least."

He said he pictured the library as a research center housing records of the Roosevelt-Truman era and serving small, Midwestern colleges.

Former Galionite Weds at Lima

GALION — After Saturday, July 3, Henry Allen Stough, formerly of Galion, and his bride, the former Jean Elizabeth Alspaugh of Lima, will be at home in Indianapolis, Ind. They were married Sunday, June 21, in Zion Lutheran Church, Lima, and have been on a wedding trip in Wisconsin.

The marriage vows were exchanged at 2:30 p.m. in a double ring service performed by the Rev. Maurice D. White. A program of nuptial selections was played by Miss Patricia Holman, organist, and vocal numbers were by Mrs. Stanley Holbrook, a sorority sister of the bride.

Miss Shirley Willyard of Toledo was maid of honor. Mrs. Theodore Heckler of Sandusky and Mrs. Charles Griebling of Galion, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

Joseph King of Columbus, formerly of Galion, fraternity brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Donald Stevenson of Columbus, another fraternity brother, and Charles Griebling of Galion, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The reception was held in the Crystal room of the Argonne Hotel, Lima, with 175 guests present.

The bride was graduated from Bowling Green State University, where she affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority. She has been teaching third grade in Washington-McKinley School, Lima, for the past year. Mr. Stough's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stough of Indianapolis, former Galion residents. He was graduated from Galion High School, and from Bowling Green State University where he belonged to Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He served two years with the U. S. Army during World War II. He is associated with the Capital Finance Co., Indianapolis.

Made Fortune From Leeches, Pravda Says

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda told today of a gang of millionaire "bloodsuckers" who raked in enormous profits from the resale of medical leeches.

Soviet doctors still often prescribe the old-time remedy of leeches to draw blood in the treatment of certain ailments.

Pravda said two brothers named Namedov bought the leeches for the equivalent of 3 to 4 (U. S.) cents from pickers in Southern Soviet Azerbaidjan, near the Iranian frontier.

The Namedov's resold the worms for the equivalent of 30 cents, pocketing the difference.

The newspaper called for action against the Namedovs, asserting that although one was in jail, the other, with his "bloodsucking" relatives, was still at large.

Soviet Press Reports Oil Output Growing

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press indicated today that oil output in the western Ural fields is increasing rapidly.

Newspapers reported that output in the Bashkiria field had increased 21.5 per cent the first half of 1952, as compared with production in the corresponding 1952 months.

Bashkiria is one of the Soviet Union's largest oil production regions.

Salvation Army Will Observe Its 88th Anniversary

The Marion Salvation Army Corps will join Thursday with others throughout the world in the celebration of the 88th anniversary of the organization of The Salvation Army, it was announced today by Captain Mary Nisiewicz.

It was on July 2 that William Booth, later to bear the rank of general, first started preaching in the east end of London, in a tent, under the sponsorship of the Christian Mission.

Under his leadership, despite repeated attacks, the mission grew and prospered. Appointed general superintendent, Booth became known as the "General." Converts made by the Christian Mission were sent out to convert others, forming an "Army" dedicated to battle against ignorance and sin.

It was in 1878 that "General" Booth, preparing an annual report on the operations of the Mission, conceived the name "The Salvation Army." A military system of government was set up, with William Booth as the General and since that time "The Salvation Army" has stood as a symbol of hope and rescue.

Today the Salvation Army operates in 89 countries, and its doctrine is preached in 81 different languages.

Ike to Emphasize Spirit of Holiday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Judd (R-Minn) said today President Eisenhower will sign Thursday a brochure sponsored by the National Association of Evangelicals which calls for emphasis on the spiritual side of Fourth of July celebrations.

The pamphlet, "March of Freedom," is based on what it says are seven divine freedoms taken from the 23rd Psalm. These are set forth as freedom from want, hunger, thirst, sin, fear, enemies and to live abundantly.

CROSSING CRASH KILLS 2

PORTSMOUTH, O. (AP)—William Cole, 18, and Larry Mossbarger, 17, both of South Webster, were killed Monday night when the car in which they were riding was struck by a freight train at a Webster grade crossing.

Pays Rail Fare 51 Years Later

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Frisco Railroad is $5 richer today because a passenger kept worrying about a free 100-mile ride he took in 1902.

The money came from a California resident (not identified by the railroad) who said he took advantage of a confused conductor on a train running late and rode from Lenea, Kan., to Springfield, Mo., without a ticket.

The man added "thanks for the favor" and said he was short of money at the time.

RITES SET FOR THREE

DAYTON, O. (AP)—Funeral services will be held today for Abram B. Hollingsworth, 64, his wife, Mayme, 57, and their 11-year-old grandson, William Michael Zeller, all of whom were killed Sunday when the truck in which they were riding was struck by a train at a Miamisburg crossing. Young Zeller's mother was killed at the same crossing eight years ago.

Death Claims Union Head

CLEVELAND (AP) — James P Shields, who went to work at 17 as a railroad fireman and rose to become the leader of the 80,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, died of a heart attack Monday at 64.

The union chief, collapsed at his desk here while conferring with two associates.

Shields became the grand chief engineer of the powerful railroad brotherhood in 1950 when he succeeded the late Alvanley Johnston, who retired after 25 years in office. He had been made temporary assistant grand chief engineer in 1939, a full assistant in 1942 and first assistant grandchief engineer in 1946.

Guy L. Brown, as first assistant grand chief engineer, automatically assumes Shields' post at the brotherhood's triennial convention which opens here next week. But an election must be held at the convention to pick a successor for the next term.

Summer Visitors Will Like Tomato Rarebit

Sunday afternoon visitors are apt to be more frequent with the warm sunny days of summer luring people away from home. You'll be well prepared for unexpected supper guests with the makings for this easy rarebit on hand—and they're all items which store well so you need never be without any of them. It's simple to make, it's good and it's satisfying.

TOMATO RAREBIT AND OLIVE RICE

Ingredients: 1 1-3 cups packaged precooked rice, 1½ cups water, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup chopped stuffed olives, 2 tablespoons butter, I can tomato soup, 1-3 cup milk, 8 ounces cheese, grated or cut in cubes, ½ teaspoon dry mustard.

Method: Combine rice, water and salt in saucepan. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork. Do not stir. Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes. Add olives and butter to rise; mix lightly with a fork.

Meanwhile combine soup, milk, cheese and mustard in saucepan, Stir over low heat until cheese is melted and mixture is hot. Serve over the olive rice. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Sharp or milk Cheddar or processed cheese may be used in this recipe. Grate Cheddar cheese and cut processed cheese into small cubes before adding to the milk.

Delaware Youth Dies of Polio; Another Ill

Special to The Star

DELAWARE—Two cases of polio have been reported here during the past week. One resulted in the death of 12 year-old Albert Pickens on Friday. The other victim of the disease is his playmate, Bill Yant.

Two other playmate of the boys have been given gamma globulin treatments because they all slept in the same tent and used the same dishes one night.

Cause of the death of the Pickens boy was bulbar polio. His funeral services will be semi-private because doctors desire to keep the family away from large crowds for a 30-day period.

The Yant boy was taken to Children's Hospital in Columbus. A diagnosis of polio was made Sunday. No paralysis has set in so far.

The other boys who are being treated with gamma globulin are Larry Wine and Donald Burdette. The tent in which they all stayed was pitched near a creek on Panhandle Rd.

Godfrey Flies To Virginia Farm Home

LEESBURG, Va. (AP)—Arthur Godfrey settled down on his expansive Northern Virginia estate today to live the life of a country squire for awhile.

The 49-year-old entertainer flew here suddenly yesterday after checking out unnoticed from the Boston hospital in which he had been resting since a serious hip operation May 15.

In his private plane, piloted by Frank Lavigna, Godfrey put down at Leesburg Airport just before nightfall and immediately went to his nearby 350-acre-estate, Beacon Hill Farm.

He'll take it easy for awhile, but late in July or early August probably will resume his radio broadcasts—and perhaps his television shows.

He was whisked away from Boston's Massachusetts Hospital so quickly yesterday that many hospital officials were unaware of his departure.

"Mr. Godfrey was just discharged, paid his bill and left," said one hospital official.

A second operation on his left hip has been postponed indefinitely. The red-haired radio and TV star broke his hips 22 years ago in an automobile accident. They have pained him ever since.

Mrs. Ruth Hostess To Happy Homemakers

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP — Mrs. Mildred Ruth who entertained the Happy Homemakers Club at the June meeting, also led devotions. Miss Margaret Reichardt played a clarinet solo. A recitation was given by Larry Carr. Roll call response was the location and description of various state parks in Ohio.

Mrs. Mary Thorpe was elected president; Mrs. Mildred Ruth, vice president; Mrs. Alice Carr, secretary.

Contest awards went to Mrs. Vineta Foos, Mrs. Donna Baer, and special awards to Mrs. Donna Flach and Mrs. Mayme Ruth.

Guests were Mrs. Mildred Harper, Mrs. Donna Baer, Mrs. Florence Zieg, Mrs. Mayme Ruth, Mrs. Florence Flach, Mrs. Ruth Ann Lyon, Mrs. Donna Flach, Mrs. Marge Ruth, Mrs. Laverne Ruth and Miss Mary E. Ruth.

The annual picnic of the club will be July 26 at Smith-Harrison Park in Upper Sandusky.

RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Returned from Louisville, Ky., where they attended a convention last week for agency leaders of the Commonwealth Life Insurance Co. are five couples from Marion, Mansfield and Sycamore. Attending were Carson Cook, Ohio Central Branch director, and Mrs. Cook of Marion, Mr. and Mrs. William Busch and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fralich, all of Marion, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cole of Sycamore and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tittlebaugh of Mansfield. The men were among eight agents who were qualified on the basis of sales results for the year. Three who were eligible to be present but who did not make the trip to the convention were Thomas Collins of Marion, Paul Morton of Crestline and James Watson of Edison.

Inside Labor

Ike Sees John L.

By Victor Riesel

If Harry Truman had dropped in on the old homestead at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., he'd have discovered that the new tenant is also sitting down and personally writing long-hand letters to critics. Difference is that the new fellow asks them to come to dinner.

RIESEL

That's exactly what happened 10 nights ago. President Eisenhower had just heard that John Lewis tried to see him — but was kept out of the White House by "assistant president" Sherman Adams. Ike also learned that the coal-diggers' chief was ready to round up some mine area senators for a blast at the President. So Eisenhower sat himself down and wrote John L. a letter saying come to dinner.

-:-

IN THIS fashion the President also notified much of Washington that most of Sherman Adams' days in the White House were over — and that the President of the U.S. was just about fed up with the Iron curtain Mr. Adams' personal guard had dropped around the Chief Executive.

Mail intended for the President has been kept from him. Important visitors have been brushed off.

Senators with special missions which must be accomplished in Washington found their appointments canceled by Adams without much explanation.

Important politicos and leading citizens, who were told to put on a single sheet of paper their reasons for wanting to see Ike, never heard from the White House again.

Congressmen complaining about White House failure to produce jobs for special constituents after the election were told by Mr. Adams that, "We will appoint so-and-so to such-and-such a job . . . we will do it this way . . ."

The editorial "we," in which President Eisenhower's name was woven, stuck in the craw of the topside Republican leaders.

FINALLY, the President decided he no longer would be a prisoner of this war of factions. He began to call in, by special handwritten invitations, men who had been snubbed, insulted or just ignored. One of these was John Lewis.

When the famed "old eyebrows" showed through the door last Monday night, the President moved quickly to greet the coal-diggers' chief.

Then Mr. Eisenhower took Lewis in to dinner and saw to it that the number one miner was at his right. Lewis later said, "The President charmed me right out of my chair."

No one talked too seriously. It was a stag night with three stars, Eisenhower, John Lewis and Barney Baruch.

On a straight count, Lewis took the evening with a series of uproarious stories of previous visits to past presidents from Calvin Coolidge to Harry Truman.

AFTER COFFEE, Ike took John under the arm and walked with him to the Red Room. But not one word of politics — although Lewis, even then, was planning to storm about the "effluvia of death" in the mines at a congressional hearing Wednesday morning. And it was known that Lewis had a bloc of senators ready to attack President Eisenhower personally for nominating Tom Lyon, as Director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

Such an open battle at this time would have hurt Eisenhower's prestige right across the world, for it would have provoked charges that the President of the U.S. was trying to appoint a man to this strategic post who cared little about America's miners.

Where did this Tom Lyon come from? He had been handpicked as early as last November — long before even the Inauguration — by Sherman Adams.

Lyon had never been investigated. Few knew that Lyon was receiving a private pension of $5,000 a year from a mining company. None but John Lewis, who roared.

-:-

LEWIS FINALLY sent a strong and bitter letter to Ike. The President passed it on to Adams, assuming the matter would be checked. Instead, Adams and his advisers had one of their fast huddles.

They decided to accept Lewis' "challenge." They then wrote him merely a "Dear Mr. Lewis, we have received your letter, etc." kind of acknowledgment. And Lewis prepared for war.

For Lewis does love his miners. He knows that some 21,000 were killed in the pits during the past 20 years — about five every working day.

Then Lyon took the Senate stand on Tuesday seeking confirmation. Asked by Sen. Jackson if "human life doesn't come before material things," Lyon retorted that "Human life is becoming very cheap these days."

There was more. But this was enough. Lyon was out.

The Senate committee actually suppressed the transcript — for the first time in history after a public hearing. Lewis won.

Adams lost. Ike almost did. But he saved his own game. It looks like he'll have to continue doing so for a while.

HELD FOR BEATING TEACHER

CANTON, O. (AP)—Police have arrested a teen-age boy involved in a gang beating of Joseph C. Berston, 31, a teacher at Canton Timken High School. Berston, whose home is in Mineral City in Tuscarawas County, said five youths attacked him on a street because he had flunked one of them. He was treated for cuts and scratches.

AP Writer Heads Home After 12 Years in Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—Eddy Gilmore, Associated Press correspondent in the Soviet Union since 1941, left Moscow by plane today for Finland, en route to the United States. He was accompanied by his Russian-born wife and two small daughters.

On the same plane with the Gilmores were another American and his Russian wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tucker, and Mrs. Ethel Balashova, a U. S. citizen, and her two daughters by a Russian father.

The Soviet Union gave Mrs. Gilmore, Mrs. Tucker and the Balashova children permission to leave early this month in the first such Russian action in recent years. Subsequently more Russian wives of Americans living in Moscow.

Tucker, whose father lives in Kansas City, has been with the U. S. Embassy here since May, 1944. He and his wife were married in 1946.

Mrs. Balashova's legal residence is Los Angeles, where her mother, Mrs. Louis Babin, lives. She married Alexander Balashova in 1939 but they were divorced in 1946 when a Soviet court gave her custody of the children, Elena, now 13, and Alice, 11.

Gilmore has been succeeded here by Thomas P. Whitney, a member of AP's Moscow staff for six years, who now becomes acting chief of bureau in Moscow.

ACCEPT PAY BOOST

CANTON, O. (AP)—The AFL laborers local here has accepted a seven cent hourly pay raise which will be given some 600 workers here and in Massillon rates of $2.07 an hour. The increase was negotiated with the Stark County Construction Council.

Tuberculin Tests To Be Given In Crawford Co.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Announcement was made here today by Crawford County commissioners that an estimated 20,000 head of breeding cattle in the county will undergo tuberculin testing during the coming fall and winter months.

The examinations, which are conducted every third year, must be completed by next May. Veterinarians of the county will meet here Aug. 11 with Dr. C. D. Bashore of Shelby, area veterinary supervisor for the state division of animal industry, to outline the testing program.

When the last series of tests was conducted in 1950-51, commissioners allocated $10,245 for the work. A similar allocation is expected to be set up in the 1954 budget.

ANTS

There's a new and better way to kill ants. It's called Roach Filmz. When applied to any surface with the built-in cap-applicator, it leaves a hard, dry, clean, visible film. The film can't harm or soil any surface; but, when ants touch it, their legs become paralyzed and they die in two hours. A single application remains effective for months. You never see it, but it sure does get rid of ants and roaches! Roach Filmz is available at

FARM BUREAU IS STILL IN BUSINESS

We will be ready for WHEAT by harvest. Portable equipment for car loading will arrive soon.

All trucks were saved. Delivery service will be resumed TODAY!

We expect to have a new supply of prepared feed, and basic supplies for your pick-up business Wednesday, July 1.

Our grain storage, grinding and mixing equipment was totally destroyed in Marion — but complete service is NOW AVAILABLE at our mills in LaRue, New Bloomington and Caledonia. We earnestly solicit your continued patronage. We will do our best to serve your needs.

Fortunately, all our records are safe, and all our accounts receivable may be received without delay.

600 Bucyrus Workers Start Summer Vacations

BUCYRUS — Some 600 Bucyrus industrial employes started their summer vacations Monday with an estimated 2,400 slated to have vacations this summer.

The vacation period started Monday for plant workers at the Crawford Steel Foundry Co., Ryder Brass Foundry Co., Ohio Locomotive Crane Co., Bucyrus Garment Co. and Bucyrus Castings Co. Crawford Steel workers are slated for a two-week vacation while other employes will resume work on July 6. Office workers at the Garment Co. and the Brass Foundry Co. take their vacations during the same period, while other office workers have their vacations on a staggered basis. Vacation periods at the W. A. Riddell Corp. will be staggered so as to keep production going all summer.

For the coming vacation periods at other Crawford County industries have been slated in Crestline and Galion.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST

Remainder of this week will continue warm, temperatures averaging 3-5 degrees above normal. Normal maximum 82-87. Normal minimum 62. Somewhat cooler about Saturday. Occasional local thundershowers during period will total one fourth to one-half inch.

Kenton School Head Resigns

J. C. Bower Going To St. Bernard

Special to The Star

KENTON — City Superintendent of Schools, J. C. Bower, has accepted a contract to serve as superintendent of schools at St. Bernard, O., a community about the size of Kenton, located on the northeast side of the Greater Cincinnati area. Bower said he will present his resignation to the Kenton Board of Education immediately. The board had already been advised of Bower's impendin& decision.

Bower assumed the duties of city school superintendent in Kenton in 1949, suceeding Dr. Walter Collins who resigned because of ill health.

During Bower's four years in Kenton, he was responsible for much of the improvement of the city school system. Prior to the establishment of a single salary schedule for both high school and elementary school teachers by the state, Superintendent Bower's recommendation to establish such a scheduled in Kenton was approved by the city board of education.

Enrollment in the Kenton schools increased about 15 per cent in the past four years and the number of teachers employed has increased from 55 to 62 during the period. A kindergarten department and a special junior high school class for slow learners were two of the features added to the school system last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bower will move to St. Bernard about August 1.

Mostly Roses, a Few Thorns

Business Outlook Good At '53 Half Way Mark

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans are sitting on top of the world economically at the half way mark of 1953.

A few chronic worriers think the perch is built so high it's beginning to wobble. By and large, however, that old slogan—"You Never Had It So Good"—still has at least surface validity in most (but not all) places in the nation: Peak, or near peak, performances in production, income, jobs, spending, savings.

Oh, yes, there are also peak taxes and debts. World trade—like its sister, currency convertibility—is still just a crazy mixed-up kid. And the U. S. federal budget can't seem to regain its balance.

Under the surface are the same questions that plagued business when the year started: how long can such a lush boom last? What are the Reds up to in Korea, Western Europe, Southeastern Asia, the Middle East? Is industry over-expanded if defense spending drops?

By Hollywood standards, however, the year has been colossal so far.

Business would have to slump badly in the second half to keep the year's statistics from being sprinkled with plus signs and many new records.

Each rose may have had its thorn. Total personal income for the nation has climbed since January—but the income of farmers is down.

Industrial production reached a peacetime peak in March—in June a slip was showing.

Consumers watch most commodity prices slide from Korean War inflation peaks—but don't see matching drops at retail. And some commodity prices (steel, oil, chemical, metal products) were rising at mid-year.

Retail trade is riding higher than a year ago. But merchants claim their profit margins aren't. Their inventories look safe, but they are ordering with caution.

Consumers are reported still in a mood to buy. Yet they resist attempts to pass along in higher prices the rising costs of manufacturing, transporting and distributing goods.

Business is happy at shucking the shackles of controls in February and March—and fretting at the cut-throat competition some industries are facing.

As curbs on materials melted, auto production began to soar to become a chief mainstay of the burgeoning boom. The used car market, however, may be ailing.

The purchasing power of the dollar is up slightly as financial authorities scuttle easy money policies. But squawks at the resulting upsurge in interest rates has led the federal reserve system to halt the rise. Some fear the hard dollar train has been sidetracked to make way for a growing federal debt driven by an increasing treasury deficit.

In the half year business has seen the goal of a balanced budget and reduced taxes set back in time. The burden of foreign aid and an arms race hangs on. Defense spending, slightly toned down, will continue, apparently for years.

SAFE TROUBLE

ADRIAN, Mich. (UP) — Burglars tried their best to make off with a 450-pound safe, but had to abandon the porject when they found they couldn't lift it onto a truck. The next night, they tried again—this time forcing open the safe where it stood in an office of a local beverage company. But still no luck. The safe was empty.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

Court of Common Pleas, Marion County, Ohio.

John Q. Berry, Plaintiff, vs. Ada Wagner, et al., Defendants, Case No. 31418.

In pursuance of an order of sale in partition from said Court to me directed in the above entitled action, I will expose to sale at public auction at the East door of the Courthouse in Marion, Marion County, Ohio on Friday, July 3, 1953, at 10:00 A.M., the following described real estate, situated in the County of Marion, State of Ohio and in the City of Marion, and bounded and described as follows:

TRACT NO. I.

Situated in the County of Marion, State of Ohio and City of Marion, and bounded and described as follows:

Known as being part of Out-Lot No. 7, in East Marion, described as follows: Beginning at a stone monument set at the southeast corner of said Out-Lot No. 7; thence North 200 feet to the south line of an alley, deeded by Martha R. Dix and her husband to the City of Marion by Deed dated January 16, 1905, and recorded in Volume 105, page 9 of the Deed Records of Marion County, Ohio; thence West on said South line of said alley, 40 feet to the west line of a certain tract of land deeded by Horatio Hoyles to John C. Anthony by deed dated November 15, 1906, and recorded in Volume 109, page 489 of the Deed Records of Marion County, Ohio; thence South on the East line of said Anthony tract, 200 feet to the North line of Church Street, thence East on the North line of Church Street, 40 feet to the place of beginning. Said premises being improved with a frame dwelling and being located at 528 East Church Street, Marion, Ohio, and appraised at $6,950.00, and can not sell for less than two-thirds of said appraisal.

TRACT NO. II.

Situated in the County of Marion, State of Ohio and City of Marion, and bounded and described as follows:

Being known as Lot No. Fifty-Eight Hundred Thirty-Two (5832) in Arlington Addition to the City of Marion, Ohio. Said premises being improved with a frame dwelling and being located at 365 South Grand Avenue, and having been appraised at $9,350.00, and cannot sell for less than two-thirds of said appraisal.

TRACT NO. III.

Situated in the County of Marion, State of Ohio and City of Marion, and bounded and described as follows:

Known as being part of the West half of Lot No. 13 in East Marion and described as follows: To be taken out of the southwest corner of said Lot No. 13, running East from the southwest corner of said lot, half the distance of the width of said West half of said Lot No. 13, and to run North far enough to make one-fourth of an acre neat measure. Said grantors hereby intend to convey one-fourth of an acre, as described above (see Deed made by John Leffler and wife to John H. Leffler as recorded in Vol. 59, page 479, Marion County Deed Records, and from John H. Leffler and wife to Maggie A. Johnson as recorded in Vol. 59, page 481, Marion County Deed Records), excepting from the above, however, a certain piece of land deeded to John J. Stafford by Maggie A. Johnson and husband by Deed as recorded in Volume 119, page 462, Marion County Deed Records and described as follows: Commencing at the northwest corner of a certain lot of land conveyed to Maggie A. Johnson by John H. Leffler and Minnie Leffler on the second day of June, 1885, and recorded in Volume 59, page 481, Deed Records of Marion County, Ohio; thence South on the West line of said lot of land 13.85 feet to the center of a private alleyway; thence East parallel to the north line of said Lot of land 48.5 feet; thence North 13.85 feet to the north line of said lot of land; thence West 48.5 feet on the north line of said lot of land to the place of beginning. Said grantors hereby agree to give said grantee for the consideration above named a strip of land 8.25 feet wide and 48.5 feet long immediately joining the tract herein conveyed on the south whenever a public alley is established; the said grantee is hereby given the privilege of using said strip of land for alley purposes until a public alley is finally established. Said premises being improved with a frame dwelling and being located at 690 East Church Street, and having been appraised at $9,100.00 and can not sell for less than two-thirds of said appraisal.

Terms of Sale: Cash.

TO STORE WHEAT SAFELY AT HOME FOR GOVERNMENT LOAN FOLLOW THESE STEPS

1. Clean and spray bins and surrounding building surfaces NOW.
2. We will custom dry your wheat if it is over 12% moisture when combined. Damp wheat will get weavily in a hurry. Should be 12% or lower for safe storage. High moisture content is the principal reason for farm stored wheat getting out of condition.
3. Use sheet metal, hardware cloth or other materials to make bin rodent proof.
4. Be sure windows and other openings are in good repair to prevent entry of birds.
5. Fumigate promptly within two to three weeks after grain is stored.
6. Observe condition of wheat often during storage period.

Ancient "Beer Well" Is Found Again in Britain

LONDON (UP)—A large medieval cave, with a well that supplied water to make beer for ancient dukes and kings, has been discovered near Nottingham Castle in the Midlands.

Caves cut into the rock on which the castle stands were used in Robin Hood's time for brewing ale and archeologists have been searching for years for the water supply to the old brewing caves.

The archeologists estimate that the newly discovered well was last used about 130 years ago. It was found 200 feet below the Old Brewer's Yard in the castle.

Forgetful Hotel Guest Left Valuable Violin

SALT LAKE CITY (UP) — A departing guest gave employees of a Salt Lake City hotel enough rope to hang themselves, literally.

When workers took inventory of articles guests had left behind they found a 30-foot lariat. But this came as no surprise.

Previously, one guest had left behind a rather shoddy looking violin which was put away with the usual run of old socks, lost luggage, hangers, keys and pajamas that regularly are forgotten by the departing guests. Later, the owner returned to claim the worn looking violin.

It turned out to be worth $1,500.

Remains of Roman Wall Found Under Water

RAVENNA, Italy (UP) — Remains of a large Roman wall have been discovered 25 feet under water off the coast near here by the crew of an Italian fishing boat.

The wall is believed to have feet long, seven feet thick and slightly over six feet high. It is made of large bricks held together by mortar.

The ball is believed to have formed part of a vanished structure that may have been a landing stage used by the fleet of Caesar Augustus.
